TELLS GIRLS TO PROPOSE.

Young Woman Who Is Studying Blacksmithing Gives Her Reasons. Ames, Ia.-Miss Tura A. Hawk, Iowa State college's 'only girl student of lacksmithing, has further demonstrat ed her versatility by winning the faculty cup for the best extemporaneous address, and she did it with the subject, "Why Women Should Propose."

"There are three reasons why women should propose-physical, spiritual and moral," said Miss Hawk.

"I ask you, is there any reason why a strong, able bodied woman should not support a husband if she chooses? No; only a time worn prejudice rears itself against such a projecture. "For the spiritual reason, there is the great saying, 'Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them.' As women should rightfully be the manager of the oldest of all in-stitutions, the home, is it any more than fair that she should be permitted to ask the man of her ideals to help her found and operate that home? Must woman, because years of common practice have established a custom, wait when she is ready to begin her life work because only the men who are not her ideal will propose?"

BIG CATCH OF SHARKS.

Apollo's Crew Hooks and Kills Nineteen-Captain Gets Turtle.

Baltimore. - Catching sharks and shooting immense sea turtles was the pastime enjoyed by Captain Thomas Thomassen and his crew during the voyage of the Norwegian bark Apollo, now in port with manganese ore from Rio Janeiro. Nineteen sharks, the largest eleven feet long, were captured and dispatched by the ship's crew.

'It was on June 4," said Captain Thomassen, "that numerous sharks hovered about the vessel, fighting each other for the refuse from the ship's galley. I made a hook about twelve inches long on a two inch line, baited it with pork and fastened it to a two inch rope. The bait hardly reached the water when a shark swallowed it, and i the tussle began. That day we caught seven of the monsters.

"It took five men to hoist a shark to the ship's deck. After killing the shark with an ax its fins were removed and the carcass thrown overboard.

"A large sea turtle was sighted about 200 yards from the vessel on June 10. I took a shot with a rifle and struck a

KISSING NEGRESS COST $3.50.

Young Man Who Saluted Her Was Put Under Arrest.

Pittsburgh.-Raymond Watkins, twenty years old, of Homeville and his companions were standing on a street corner in Munhall terrace recently chatting and joking when one of Watkins' friends bet him $1 he did not dure to kiss the first girl that came along Watkins put up the money and soon got his chance to win a dollar.

Estelle Stanton, a negress, eighteen years old, living in Munhall terrace, walked along an instant later, and Wat-kins seized his opportunity, accosted the young woman and kissed her on the cheek. Watkins then turned to his companions and collected the dollar. A few hours later he was taken into custody on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by the girl. Watkins paid the costs. $4.50, and was freed. hus he lost $3.50.

Salem. candidacy for the Republican nomination for secretary of state his daughter, Miss Bernice Wolcott Askin, was in New York. The news of her father's candidacy, however, brought her back to Missouri with the announcement that she will accompany him on his campaign with her violin.

"Father has done much to aid me in my musical education," said Miss Askin at the home of a friend in St. Louis, and now that he wants to be secretary of state I am going to do all I can for him. I may accompany him over the state during his entire campaign. If I do I shall take my violin along and entertain the voters."

Could See Newspaper Print In Glow of Lava From Maunaloa.

Honolulu .- Maunaloa, which was in eruption in May, recently broke out again. A flood of lava which burst forth at an elevation of 7,000 feet flowed down the mountain side, traveling southwest at the rate of about a mile an hour.

The flood of lava divided, following two channels. The glow illuminated the entire landscape at night.

Newspapers could be read by its light many miles away.

The course taken by the lava was that taken by the last previous cruption, about nine years ago. The sea is about fifty miles from the mountain in this direction, and there is little property of value between

10,000 BEES LOOSE IN WOMEN'S BALLROOM

Aplarist Turns Out Swarm Before Club Members, but No Stings Follow.

Cleveland, O.-In the nursery story the queen sat in the parior eating bread and honey, but even Mother Goose never saw 10,000 bees loose in a ballroom. But the latter sight was seen recently when Ernest R. Root of Medina, bee and honey expert, shook out a swarm of bees into the white and gold ballroom of the Woman's club, this city, to show members of the club how easily the little honey makers may be handled if one knows how, There were swift glances toward the door when Mr. Root proposed to open the little case that held the bees. "Don't be in the least afraid. They will not sting you even if they should happen to light on you," promised Mr. Root.

He scooped up a handful of the bees out of the thick, moving brown mass, put them in his hat, clapped his hat on his head and went on with his talk.

TWO BEDS REQUIRED FOR A GIANT BOY OF 15

Prisoner Measuring Six Feet Four Was Cause of Worry to New York Children's Society.

New York. - Children's society offlcials had all kinds of trouble with fifteen-year-old Theodore Olsen, who stands six feet four inches in his socks. This young giant had not been able to find a bed in the place that would fit him. He had been sleeping in two beds placed together, with the cover pieces out. Subterfuge had been discovered to make Theodore fit one of the children's bathtubs or to find one to fit him.

Olsen was arrested after he had called the janitor of an apartment house here to help him extinguish a blaze that he admits he started in the dumbwaiter shaft. He says he had started five similar fires in the upper west side, but had always extinguished them himself, because his desire was not to see the engines dash by, but just to see the blaze.

Theodore left school because of the embarrassment caused by his abnormal size. He became a delivery boy for a grocer, and he says that after delivering an order on the dumbwaiter he would start a blaze at the bottom of the shaft among the old papers and other waste that he frequently found there. Theodore lives with his parents in this city.

MAY BOYCOTT A DEADBEAT.

Merchants of Topeka, Kan., Plan to Organize For That Purpose.

Topeka, Kan.-Attorney General S. M. Brewster has announced a ruling that the merchants of a city or the state could form a trust or order a boycott against the deadbeat. The Topeka merchants have worked out a scheme whereby each merchant is to make a report monthly of his customers who do not pay regularly or have not satisfactorily adjusted their accounts.

These reports are then to be forwarded to every other merchant in the local association, and they are to refuse credit to any of those on the blacklist.

There are some lawyers who have St. Louis.-When William C. Askin, held that the merchants could not form an association to boycott the deadbear without violating the anti-trust laws. The plan of the Topeka organization was submitted to the attorney general, and he has advised the merchants that such an organization would be legal.

CATTLE FEAR DOG.

Herd Ran Over a Horse and Buggy In Their Terror.

Arlington, Ky. - E. W. Benson of Bardwell had a novel experience the other day. While driving along the road out of Barlow, Mr. Benson saw a herd of yearlings ahead of him turn into a lane. In a few seconds he also noticed a dog sneaking in the direction of the cattle.

The dog made a dive for the herd, and they made a run for the road, arriving there just as Mr. Benson drove up, and the cattle ran over the horse and buggy, knocked, the horse down and came near turning the buggy over. In their mad haste to get away from the dog one of the calves fell, going under the buggy. Mr. Benson says this is the first time he was ever run over by a herd of cattle.
